

CASE STUDY

Aspire, Slough

Brief

This project involved the transformation of an industrial unit into a modern training centre for developing employment skills within the local community in Slough.

Project info

An auditorium, internal landscaping and modern feature lighting.

Our works included the full strip out, reconfiguration and refurbishment of the unit to suit the centre's needs. New training areas were formed, including meeting rooms, seating areas and an auditorium.

Raw industrial finishes featured heavily in the design, including a polished concrete floor with acoustic lined ceiling and plywood joinery throughout.

To soften the look and bring some colour to the space, the design featured internal landscaping. New surface mounted mechanical and electrical installations were installed along with new WCs and tea point facilities.

VALUE	£400K
DURATION	10 WEEKS
CLIENT	SEGR0 PLC
ARCHITECT	MANOLO & WHITE

